THE supreme court of Ohio has effectually broken up the barbarous practice of railroad conductors in kicking tramps ff their trains between stations. Under decision of the court a passenger, ven when he steals a ride, can only be at off at a regular station. Where the oor fellow who had to steal a ride and got kicked off found money enough to take his case to the supreme court, the Leision doesn't show.

THE enormous cost of funerals is again acting attention in New York. A leading undertaker of that city declares Lat the most economical funeral which can possibly have with any regard decency costs $200. The funeral of two actors burned in the Brooklyn ater, at which there were ten car ges and two very plain caskets, cost 35, and was considered cheap at that.
